Dear Dr. McAllister:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your generous gift in support of the 1988 FASEB Receptor Conference to be held August 7-12, 1988 in Saxtons River, Vermont. Your contributions have allowed us to invite excellent speakers from a variety of places, both in the states and abroad, from industry, government and academia. The conference is pretty well organized now and has been extremely popular in terms of applications that we have received. I am enclosing a list of the speakers and the titles of their talks for the conference. In the program of the conference your organization will be acknowledged for the generous support it has given us. In addition to the speakers, there will be a large number of posters presented as the majority of people who have applied to come to the conference have expressed a desire to present their work in poster form. After the conference is over, I will send a report to you on the conference. On behalf of Dr. Caron and myself, once again thank you for the help you have given us in organizing this conference.

Sincerely,

Richard D. Klausner, M.D., Chief
